

Guatemala City, Guatemala, February 3rd, 2017.

I hereby want to express my appreciation for the Ricardo Salinas Scholarship awarded to me, to attend the Investment Manager Training held in México City on January 23 to 27th, 2017. Your support greatly helped me to participate in this event.

It was a great opportunity to learn from the knowledge and experiences of Professor John Kohler from the Miller Center for Social Entrepreneurship at Santa Clara University, California. He shared his knowledge and experience with great generosity in the field of innovation for impact investment, a fundamental element for Latin America's development. My deep thanks to Professor Kohler.

A special thanks to ANDE - which with initiatives like this, we are weaving a new world, supporting those who dream for new solutions and working to make those come true. The energy that Rosario and Katia gave to the workshop was amazing, and they spread this energy to all participants, which we will keep as an asset for our professional and personal growth. It was wonderful to come back home having made so many friends and new contacts.

I want to take time to thank all the people that give their time and effort to make our visit so great, and those that came with us to the field trip, to share their own experiences.

A big hug to Mexico that received us with the greatness and hospitality that distinguish Mexicans.
